

Prof. Danny Quah

Professor of Economics & International Development at LSE

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Danny Quah is Professor of Economics and International Development and a highly respected figure in the world of economics and governance. In January 2015 he was appointed Senior Advisor to the Director of the London School of Economics. He also is Tan Chin Tuan Visiting Professor at National University of Singapore and serves on the Editorial Boards of East Asian Policy, Journal of Economic Growth, and the Journal of Global Policy. In addition, in 2014 he was appointed Director of the Saw Swee Hock Southeast Asia Centre at LSE's Institute of Global Affairs, Senior Fellow at LSE IDEAS, Academic Director of the LSE Executive Summer School, and Chair of the LSE-PKU Summer School Board.

"Danny Quah continues to make significant contributions to the fields of Economic Growth and International Development"

In detail

Danny Quah obtained his Ph.D. from Harvard University and his A.B. from Princeton University. He joined LSE in 1991 after having taught as an assistant professor in MIT's Economics Department. In 2001 he was named one of ten heroes of dissemination by the ESRC. As a regular contributor to major economic journals, he also found a place in Who's Who in the World and Who's Who in Economics (1997).

What he offers you

In economics, Danny Quah has made huge contributions across a very wide range of areas, ranging from time-series econometrics, business cycles, inflation, and international income inequality to, most recently, technology and economic growth. His experience includes working as a consultant for the World Bank and for the Bank of England among his credentials. He regularly speaks at seminars around the world on his focus subjects, including global governance and inequality in economic growth.

How he presents

Exceedingly passionate about economics and global governance, Danny introduces his audience to new thinking in a fluid and relaxed style, being both articulate and soft-spoken.

Topics

The Global Economy and the Rise of the East
Economic Growth and Wealth Creation
Government Policy on Science and Technology
Technology and Economic Growth
Life in Unequal, Growing Economies
Corporate Governance

Languages

He presents in English.

Want to know more?

Give us a call or send us an e-mail to find out exactly what he could bring to your event.

How to book him?

Simply phone, fax or e-mail us.

Credentials

His academic research has been supported by awards from the British Academy, the Economic and Social Research Council, and the MacArthur Foundation