

Dr. Lynda Gratton

Influential Strategic Thinker

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Dr. Lynda Gratton is a Professor of Management Practice at London Business School where she directs the program 'Human Resource Strategy in Transforming Companies' - considered the world's leading program on human resources. Lynda is the founder of the Hot Spots Movement and for over six years she has led the Future of Work Research Consortium which has brought executives from more than 80 companies together both virtually and on a bespoke collaborative platform. Over the last 20 years, she has also written extensively about the interface between people and organisations. Her latest book 'The Key' looks at the impact of the changing world on corporate practices and processes and on leadership.

"People are our most important asset"

In detail

Her work has been acknowledged globally - she has won the Tata HR Leadership award in India; in the US she has been named as the annual Fellow of NAHR and won the CCL prize for applied research; whilst in Australia she has won the HR prize. She was named by The Times/Harvard Business Review 'Business Thinkers 50' as one of the top 15 business thinkers in the world.

What she offers you

Lynda is a leading expert in the field of human resource strategy, sought after by a wide range of clients for her ability to translate complex ideas and strategies into easily digestible presentations, which show that people matter more than their roles in today's businesses, and how to make more of their talent and energy.

How she presents

Lynda is known for her engaging and inspirational speaking style, drawing on the latest thinking and cutting-edge research. Organisations she has spoken for include the RSA, Roche, Microsoft and the World Economic Forum.

Languages

She presents in English.

Want to know more?

Give us a call or send us an e-mail to find out exactly what she could bring to your event.

How to book her?

Simply phone, fax or e-mail us.

Video