

Margaret Wheatley

Leading Expert on the Future of Organisations and Leadership

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Margaret Wheatley writes, teaches, and speaks about radically new practices and ideas for organising in chaotic times. She works to create organisations where people are known as the blessing, not the problem. She is president of The Berkana Institute, a charitable global leadership foundation serving life-affirming leaders and has been an organisational consultant for many years, as well as a professor of management in two graduate programmes.

"Meg Wheatley has given the world a new way of thinking about organisations with her revolutionary application of the natural sciences to business management.

In detail

Margaret Wheatley holds an M.A. in Communications and Systems Thinking from New York University. She has been a research associate at Yale University, a fellow of the World Business Academy and an Associate Professor of Management at the Marriott School of Management, Brigham Young University, and Cambridge College, Massachusetts.

What she offers you

Margaret is a recognised expert at helping organisations who are wrestling with a common dilemma - how to maintain their integrity and effectiveness as they cope with relentless pressures for speed and change in chaotic environments. She provides new insights into the nature of how people interact and shows companies exactly how to create stronger leaders and build better organisations.

How she presents

An outstanding communicator and stimulating speaker, Margaret addresses the most critical questions in today's increasingly volatile business environment as she enlightens and challenges audiences around the globe.
